House Bill 5488

Inmate: Jeremy Grundman #365397

I support this bill, but it is 129 days too late. This bill is long overdue. The convicted person earned 129 days off his sentence which allows him to be released on March 19, 2012.

This was a charge of Manslaughter, and he should not be allowed to be released early. He had a choice, and the choice he made took my sons life. The family suffers everyday because of our loss and will continue to suffer for a lifetime.

For him to serve his full sentence, is not even his lifetime, yet he is to be rewarded by having an opportunity to be released early. This is wrong, and no one takes notice to the victims that are continuously suffering. He should have to serve his full sentence; he did make the choice that took a life. That life was my son's life.

Sincerely,
Patricia Palma
